Dear Residents,

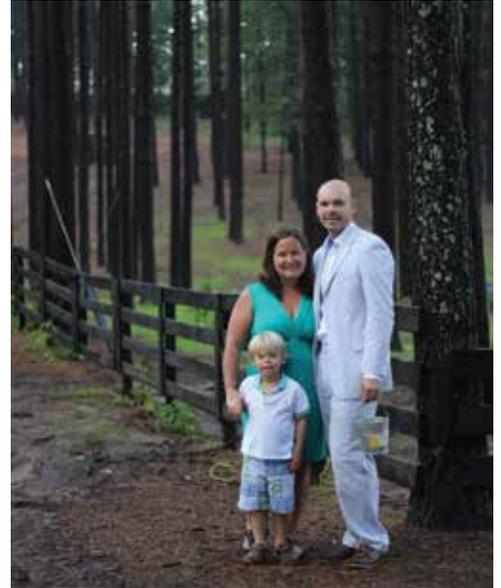

Each family has their yearly summer traditions or trips, that must be checked off the bucket list for their summer to feel complete. For my family, each summer we vacation for a week in Serenbe, Georgia. This community is a New Urban village, located about thirty-minutes outside of Atlanta. In the summer months they offer a kids camp, which my son has done the last two summers, and loved every minute of it. While he is at camp, my husband and I will go hiking around Serenbe, do a cooking class, relax around the pool, and just enjoy the surroundings. There really is nothing comparable to staying in one of the cabins at Serenbe, being greeted by goats after dinner, or hearing the rooster first thing in the morning.

Another tradition for our family is to visit our local NSFD fire station located on Lexington Boulevard. We love to bring the firefighters krinkles, and of course, seeing the big red truck is the main attraction for my son. Our feature family, the Tyk's give a glimpse at how one local firefighter choose this career path, and why he is thrilled to serve the community we all live in.

Savor the last weeks of summer!

Tyk Family Fights Fires At Work and

When most young boys are asked what they want to be when they grow up, a typical answer is a firefighter, policeman, or doctor. For Lieutenant Daniel Tyk, this childhood dream became a reality, and he is now serving the community he both grew up in, and is now raising his own family in.

Dan grew up in Whitefish Bay and graduated in 2002 from Whitefish Bay High School. "I knew since I was five or six that I wanted to become a firefighter and paramedic. I would chase fire trucks as they zoomed past my house to see if I could figure out where they were headed. At least a few times per year I would stop by the firehouse for a tour, and to sit on the rigs. I even created a tackle box filled with medical and first aid supplies that I would carry around the neighborhood. If another kid fell off their bike, or scraped an arm, I was there with my medical kit to fix the injury," said Dan.

With Dan's interest in becoming a firefighter growing, when he was 14, his parents enrolled him in the Fire Explorer program. This program allowed Dan to ride along with the firefighters and experience what life as a firefighter actually entails. From that experience, Dan knew that he would eventually become a firefighter for his profession, and he took on more roles throughout the years. During the summer months, Dan worked as the administrative assistant in the fire department headquarters. Then in high school, Dan became a fire department Cadet, which allowed him to spend his afternoons doing a work-study program riding along with the fire crews. At night Dan would attend Firefighting and EMT classes, and upon high school graduation, he already had all of the classes and certifications needed to apply to be a full-time firefighter. Dan also received his nursing degree and paramedic license after high school, due to his interest in the medical aspects of working in the fire department.

When Dan was in school in 2004, he went to a party with friends, which is where a gorgeous, but quiet, woman named Katie, caught his eye. After some help from Katie's friend, Dan was able to get Katie's phone number and the two began dating. Katie was at the ceremony when Dan was sworn in as a full-time firefighter for the North Shore Fire/Rescue in May 2005. "In 2008 Dan proposed when both of our families and a few friends went on a cruise around the Mediterranean. It was so romantic, and of course the answer was yes," said Katie.

In October 2009, the couple was all set to get married at the "Streets of Old Milwaukee" within the Milwaukee Public Museum. Being eight weeks out from the wedding, the couple met with the museum's event planner, only to be told the horrible news, that they had double-booked and the couple wouldn't be able to have their wedding at their already planned out location. Devastated, the couple made call after call to arrange something last minute. Finally they spoke to Ken from Canopies, who offered them something completely new, which was only offered due to their special circumstances, of the previous venue being cancelled. The Milwaukee County Historical Society building, had just been used for a premier party for the movie Public Enemies, starring Johnny Depp. With the whole building transformed to use as a bank, Ken explained how he could transform the building and make the space look amazing for a wedding. While Dan was skeptical, Katie loved the idea and knew it was the space for them. "The day of the wedding we couldn't believe the transformation. Professional stage lighting in our wedding colors, large televisions and couches created seating areas for guests to watch our wedding video, the whole building was magical," said Katie. The makeshift wedding turned out so magical that the venue sent in professional photographers and a wedding magazine to document the transformation. Since the Historical Society had previously never rented the space privately, let alone hosted a wedding, it also opened the idea for future events and weddings at the space, with photos from Dan and Katie's wedding still used by the Historical Society to promote events there.

The couple now lives off of Henry Clay, buying the house Dan grew up in from his parents. They have two children, Lilly (4) and Jake (1), with Lilly entering her first year at Richards Elementary School in the fall, the same school that Dan went to as a child. For the last five years, Katie has been a Special Education teacher at a school in Fox Point, and also worked for a number of years providing in-home therapy for children with autism. The couple also has an adopted dog, fittingly named Chief.

"I am proud to work for an organization that is one of only 250 accredited fire departments worldwide. Our group has an innovative vision and we offer more than just emergency response. We provide CPR training and certification, car seat installation, home safety assessments, smoke alarm installation, fire extinguisher and evacuation training, and much more. We respond to over 8,000 calls for service every year," said Dan.

The firefighters always love when our local community supports them, and they even will stop by your block party if you call and set it up ahead of time. "My tips for the community are to take time to learn CPR, create a home escape plan, and have both smoke and carbon monoxide alarms on every level in the house. Finally, come to the station and get to know your firefighters, We are just regular people and our duty crews are away from their families 24-hours at a time, so we love visitors. Don't be afraid to ring the doorbell and ask for a tour, we would love to meet you," said Dan, while leaning against the big red firetruck.●

Home Instead Senior Care Brings Heartfelt, Personal Care to Seniors Living in the North Milwaukee Area for Over 16 Years

By Sandy Borkovetz, Home Instead Senior Care Home Care Consultant

Herb and Melody Beighley of Home Instead Senior Care understand firsthand the benefits of providing care for an aging loved one. Through the nurturing and loving care of Herb's mother, the Beighley family discovered a peace of mind that brought an immense amount of compassion and dignity to their service. With this peace of mind came a purpose and they began to think of their caregiving experience as an opportunity to make a positive impact in the Milwaukee North community by providing personal, heartfelt care that brings comfort and joy to the entire family.

For many aging seniors, maintaining their independence is part of retaining their identity – their memories, possessions and decision-making abilities are all tied to living safely and securely in the home. However, for adult children, providing love and support is complicated by daily responsibilities like transportation, medication management, meal preparation, and cleaning. This phenomenon has come to be known as "caregiver stress" and it can negatively impact both adult children and their aging loved ones.

With many adult children, the stress of caregiving begins with a promise; aging parents ask their children not to uproot them from their homes if at all possible. For many adult children, this promise is difficult to keep along with caring for their own children and families, maintaining a job or going about their daily lives.

Home Instead Senior Care understands this challenge as a leading provider of in-home care services for seniors. We offer personalized care, support and education to help enhance the lives of aging adults and their families whether they still live in their home or a managed senior community in Milwaukee, Wauwatosa and the North Shore communities of Shorewood, Whitefish Bay, Glendale, River Hills, Fox Point and Bayside.

As CAREGivers™ we provide the extra assistance for seniors to live independently for a longer period of time. CAREGivers offer seniors companionship, personal care, medication reminders, meal preparation, light housekeeping, errands and incidental transportation to medical appointments and shopping. It's not just about providing a service; it's about connecting with seniors and helping families keep their promise of independence.

"I can't say enough about the care I receive from Home Instead. My caregivers are kind and considerate and attend to my needs with a smile on their faces. They tell me their stories and listen to mine. We work crossword puzzles together and discuss everything from world events to family and friends. Home Instead is flexible when my schedule changes or I needed extra care and regularly checks in with me to make sure I am getting what I need. Home Instead is doing a great job for me and I highly recommend them."

~ Virginia Hyland, Milwaukee, WI

For the Beighley family, 'To us, it's personal' is more than a mission statement; it's a commitment to providing comfort to the human spirit and engaging seniors with meaningful and heartwarming care. Home Instead begins this process with an initial in-home consultation to review daily essential care needs as well as look at any health and safety awareness issues. Home Instead also discusses the time commitment provided by family and friends to develop a comprehensive Care Coordination Plan that meets the needs of the aging parent and the family members.

CAREGivers are not just trained in the practical aspects of aging, such as how to assist with personal care and home safety. They also receive ongoing specialized training in memory care, hospice, Parkinson's, COPD, arthritis and diabetes. This intensive training is enhanced by their own personal care giving experience that transcends into a meaningful relationship to the seniors in their care. For each CAREGiver, the experience of serving aging seniors is deeply impactful and rewarding. To us, it truly is personal.

NORTH SHORE FIRE AND RESCUE

BY LIEUTENANT DAN TYK, NORTH SHORE FIRE/RESCUE COMMUNITY RELATIONS AND PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICER

PulsePoint empowers CPR-trained citizens and off-duty professionals to provide critical assistance immediately following cardiac arrest

Cardiac arrest is a severe health issue that poses a threat of brain damage and death. The American Heart Association reports that more than 420,000 emergency medical services-assessed out-of-hospital cardiac arrests occur annually.

With the significant benefits of early CPR and intervention, it is imperative that cardiac arrest patients outside of a hospital receive immediate care. The use of mobile phone technology and new mobile apps currently being developed in the United States and abroad can aid cardiac arrest victims in receiving prompt care by alerting CPR-trained volunteers in the area that an emergency situation requires their attention.

Benefits of Early Intervention

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), approximately 92% of people who have sudden cardiac arrest outside of a hospital setting will die. The benefit of Hands Only CPR and defibrillation prior to the arrival of medical help is clear. However, in Milwaukee County, bystander CPR rate is an abysmal 20% compared to over 45% nationwide. Receiving bystander CPR immediately following cardiac arrest can increase chances of survival 50-500%. The 2015 American Heart Association guidelines recommend the implementation of services like PulsePoint nationwide.

What is PulsePoint?

PulsePoint is like an AMBER alert for sudden cardiac arrest victims. It uses location-based technology to alert citizens to a sudden cardiac arrest in their immediate vicinity so that they can start CPR in the critical life-saving minutes before first responders arrive, turning everyday people into everyday heroes. The app also directs users to the precise location of nearby public Automated External Defibrillators (AEDs).

The PulsePoint apps were created by and are a product of the PulsePoint Foundation. Physio-Control is the foundation's implementation partner and provides services to integrate PulsePoint with public safety agency dispatch and communication systems. The App is available for free for iOS and Android phones and tablets and can be downloaded from www.pulsepoint.org or your respective App store.

The PulsePoint App was officially launched on Jun 13th, 2016 by North Shore Fire/Rescue and the Greenfield and West Allis Fire Departments at the Milwaukee County Zoo with the support of many other local fire departments, Milwaukee County Office of Emergency Management-EMS Division, and local stakeholders. The cities of Milwaukee, Oak Creek, St. Francis and Wauwatosa will also join the group "live" in the App over the coming weeks.

PulsePoint the latest Milwaukee County Initiative

Last year, Hands Only CPR training kits were placed in over 30 fire stations in Milwaukee County. Residents can visit a fire station and check-out self-paced learning kits and learn hands only CPR and defibrillation in their own home or business.

Last year, Milwaukee County initiated providing CPR instructions to 9-1-1 callers reporting a cardiac arrest. Dispatchers instructing, coaching bystanders in hands only CPR improved CPR prior to medical first response to over 40%.

Finally, Milwaukee County Fire Departments were involved and supported American Heart Association legislation signed into Wisconsin law this spring that will require Hands Only CPR to be taught to high school students prior to their graduation. Each year this will result in 58,000 new Hands Only CPR providers throughout our state and in our communities.

We have taught a generation to call 9-1-1 but now we need to teach and encourage members of our communities to do something while help is responding. Under the best scenario it will take at least four minutes from time of cardiac arrest to the arrival of firefighters, EMT's and Paramedics. Every minute reduces the chances of survival by at least 10% and we cannot rewind the resuscitation clock. The Milwaukee County fire departments have recognized that we must engage bystanders to improve sudden cardiac arrest outcomes. We have a great Emergency Medical System in Milwaukee County but to make further improvements we need the help of everyday citizens to get involved and do Hands Only CPR when a cardiac arrest occurs and we are excited to be "PulsePoint Connected".

For more information on receiving CPR training or using PulsePoint, please visit www.nsfire.org or contact Lieutenant Dan Tyk at (414) 357-0113 ext. 1513 or dtyk@nsfire.org.

Beyond the Blues Event Raises Awareness On Depression and Suicide

BY KERRY KUBLY BOLGER

My brother, Charlie, seemingly had everything going for him. He had a successful career in the finance industry. He enjoyed time being outdoors whether it was skiing, biking, or boating, and he also had his pilots license. He was tall, handsome and charismatic. He had a large network of family and close-knit friends. You would never have suspected he suffered from severe depression. He kept this secret to himself for years. It wasn't until he graduated from college that he confided in my parents, and asked for professional help. Even then, he kept his struggle to himself and showed my family only glimpses of his pain. For the next few years, Charlie saw mental health professionals, took medications and tried alternative treatments. We all believed he would get better. But his emotional and physical pain became too great, and in the fall of 2003, a week after he turned 28, he ended his life. It was a shock to everyone. My family put Charlie's obituary on a half-page in the paper. While Charlie was embarrassed and kept silent, we wanted to give a voice to his struggle and address his disease. In lieu of flowers, we requested donations, and when we received over $140,000 in donations, it was decided we would try to do something impactful in his honor. This is how the Charles E. Kubly Foundation began.

Suicide rates have surged over the last 30 years. According to NAMI (the National Alliance for Mental Health), suicide is the 10th leading cause of death in the U.S. and 2nd leading cause of death between the ages of 15-24. In Wisconsin, the suicide rate is four times the homicide rate. Over 700 residents die by suicide each year. These statistics are alarming. The CEK Foundation is striving to help people suffering from depression by increasing public awareness; eliminating the stigma; supporting prevention programs and promoting better access to mental health resources. Since 2004, we have raised over 2 million dollars and provided grants to 210 projects nation and statewide. One project close to home is REDgen. They are specifically addressing the mental health issues in the Whitefish Bay school system (as well as other North Shore school systems), and are "committed to working together across systems to promote balance and resiliency in the lives of our youth and families."

We hold an annual fundraiser called "Beyond the Blues" which is a night of music, food and fun. This year the event will be held on September 23rd at Turner Hall with music provided by Dan Dance Trio and the Rhythm Kings and catering by Saz's. Tickets will be going on sale August 1st. Consider grabbing some friends and joining us for a great night and great cause!

TEN TRICKS to Simplify Summer

by Emma Riehl

It's summertime and the living's easy. On lazy, sunny afternoons, the last thing you want to do is handle sticky popsicle messes, dig for lost sunglasses, or vacuum beach sand out of the back seat of your car. Also, who knew your ice cube tray had so many refreshing uses? Get in the summer spirit by simplifying your daily routine with these quick tips.

- Use a coat hanger to store your sunglasses in your coat closet. Hook them over the base of the hanger so they don't get lost or broken in your daily summer shuffle.
- Clean out an old sunscreen bottle to store your valuables in at the beach. Twist off the cover and slide your items inside. Your phone, keys, and lip balm will stay sand-free.
- Fill empty water bottles half-full with water then freeze. Add a summer beverage on top, and you have a chilled drink for the day.
- Mix aloe gel with water and freeze in an ice cube tray. Use the aloe cubes as a refreshing sunburn treatment.
- Use a cupcake liner as a popsicle drip tray by poking the popsicle stick through the middle of the liner. Say goodbye to sticky popsicle fingers and the mess that comes along with them.
- Oragel (the dental gel bought at drugstores) takes the itch out of mosquito bites. Be sure to pack some on your next camping trip.
- For easy ice cream sandwiches, slice a pint of ice cream and place the frozen discs between two cookies. Mix it up by choosing various flavors of cookies and ice cream.
- Sprinkle baby powder on your sandy feet after a day at the beach. The sand will slough off without leaving any irritation. This is an essential tip when transporting sandy kids home from the beach.
- Freeze coffee in an ice cube tray to turn your morning brew into a refreshing iced treat. By using pure coffee in the cubes, your chilled coffee won't get watered down.
- Spear fresh strawberries on a drinking straw to remove the green stem and make summer snacking simpler.

Camp Whitcomb/Mason Hosts Social Event to Benefit Boys and Girls Club

Amidst the beautiful homes and picturesque nature of Lake Keesus sits the 105 year-old Camp Whitcomb/Mason, which is owned and operated by Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Milwaukee. Camp was created to give Club members safe access to the outdoors and an escape from the stresses of the city. It is still used for this purpose today, but it is also a treasured summer destination for kids from across the state. Campers enjoy lake activities, archery, a ropes course, nature walks, arts and crafts, bonfires and good ole fashioned silliness.

In addition to summer fun, Camp hosts numerous school groups, corporate retreats, athletic camps and even weddings throughout the year. Though it has a long history, and is visited by thousands of people each year, many local residents have yet to set foot on Camp's 306-acre property.

Thanks to local resident and Boys & Girls Clubs board member, Madonna Williams, Lake Country residents are invited to the first-ever S'more Fun at Camp event on Thursday, September 29 at 5:30 p.m. The event will give attendees the opportunity to visit Camp and enjoy a family-style dinner with friends. Tickets are $80, and proceeds from the event will provide scholarships for kids to attend Camp. For more information, visit BoysGirlsClubs.org.

It Takes a Village . . . SUBMITTED BY LYNN RAINES

Little did I know that a conversation about books at a neighborhood celebration last summer would lead me to meet the remarkable Jayne Jordan. My neighbor, Sue Nichols, spoke highly of This Token of Freedom, a story detailing the journey of a nine year-old girl who evacuated war-torn England in August 1940 without her mother and father to live with a host family, strangers to her, in Fox Point, WI. She anticipated her duration in the United States would last several months. Instead, Jayne spent five years waiting for the end of the Nazi threat on her home country. She returned to England only to desperately miss the United States and more specifically, Milwaukee's North Shore. After several twists and turns, Jayne settled into Whitefish Bay just two blocks away from my home.

When Sue left a copy of This Token of Freedom on my doorstep, I delved deeper into Jayne's captivating story. I felt compelled to share the book with my book club, and Jayne joined us for the evening of discussion. Her humor, charisma and calm demeanor won our admiration. Jayne is a great talent and asset to our community. She has the ability to turn her extraordinary life experiences into wise lessons for others to absorb. The book club was sorry to see the evening come to a close several hours later, as we thoroughly enjoyed learning about this smart and engaging pillar of Whitefish Bay.

At the time of the book club, my daughter, Annie, was just six weeks old. Several weeks later, Jayne stopped by my house with a gift. It was a beautiful white blanket with highlights of bright colors that Jayne had knitted for Annie. Jayne shared that the yarn had come from the remnants of many other blankets she had made for family, friends and neighbors. I felt touched and honored by Jayne's generosity and demonstration of neighborly love.

Whenever I see Jayne on our street, I feel more assured that my family made the right choice to live in Whitefish Bay, a true community. ●

CIVIC FOUNDATION

I Scream, You Scream, We All Scream for Ice Cream August 3rd

Mark your calendars for the 2016 Ice Cream Social, Wed., Aug. 3 at Old Schoolhouse Park. Indulge in a free sundae or root beer float while enjoying live music from the Whitefish Bay Community Band.

Save the Date - Sounds of Summer on Saturday, August 20th

A musical street festival on the east end of Silver Spring presented by Whitefish Bay's Civic Foundation!

5:30 - 6:45 PM - Daryl Stuermer of Genesis and Phil Collins

7:00 - 8:15pm - Altered Five Blues Band

8:30pm - 10pm - Daryl Stuermer of Genesis and Phil Collins and his 5-piece band

Plus food, beer and great music!

About the talent: Daryl Stuermer of Genesis and Phil Collins

Celebrating over 30 years of musical accomplishments, virtuoso lead guitarist Daryl Stuermer of the super-groups Genesis and the Phil Collins Band, has been touring the world to sold-out crowds since 1978. Daryl was discovered while playing with his Milwaukee band, Sweetbottom.

In late 1977, Stuermer began his 30-year "permanent part-time stint" as lead guitarist with Genesis, touring the world to sold-out crowds and performing on seven Genesis albums. When Phil Collins launched a solo career during the early 80s, Stuermer became an integral member of the Collins' solo band. Stuermer created the signature guitar sound of Collins' solo mega hits "In the Air Tonight" and "Easy Lover," and was co-writer of Collins' 1989 GRAMMY® Award-winning and Billboard No. 4 single "Something Happened on the Way to Heaven."

Stuermer continues to expand on his accomplishments. In between tours, Stuermer launched his own independent record label, Urban Island Music, and continues to write music for his nine solo albums, with his newest album scheduled to be released in Spring 2016, Breaking Cover, which celebrates guitar legends and milestone music including "Message in a Bottle" (The Police), "Aja" (Steely Dan), "Freeway Jam" (Jeff Beck) and "Layla" (Eric Clapton) and some of Daryl's original favorites. Stuermer tours with the "Daryl Stuermer Band" performing in duo, quartet, five-piece and full symphonic shows throughout the world.

Daryl will join us for two sets. The first being original and acoustic guitar stylings he is known for and then his band members will join for an upbeat reinvention of the Genesis experience and much, much more!

Altered Five Blues Band

Proclaimed "a staple of the Midwest's band scene" and "a festival favorite" by the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, Altered Five's delectable brew of blues and soul is gaining national attention. The group's third album, Cryin' Mercy, reached #3 in the iTunes blues store and hit #1 on the Roots Music Report radio chart. It's been said that "the blues is a feeling," so when the Minneapolis Star Tribune states that the band is a "righteous blast," you know they play it right!

Summer Fun for Families

By Tori S. Bevens

BACKYARD CAMPING

The combination of a warm night and a tent in the backyard can only lead to fun. Set out to cancel all the noise. Spend a night “camping” with each child (or more than one at a time). The nice thing is if something goes wrong, you are close enough to home to make it right.

Don't forget: a flashlight, some books and a ton of blankets

PICNICKING

There is hardly anything that says summer better than meals outside, especially meals at the park. Packing up lunch or dinner and heading to the park where everyone can play, roam, enjoy the warmth and share a nice meal is invigorating, and there is something about not having to set or clear the table.

Don't forget: a blanket, sunscreen and a few treats

FEEDING THE DUCKS

Find bodies of water with lots of ducks and geese. Note that the best food to feed these creatures is lettuce, as bread can actually make them sick because of all of the nutrients it is enriched with.

Don't forget: lettuce, a blanket, sunscreen and your best duck impression

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALLGAME

Whether your closest team is a Little League team, a minor league team or a major league team, there is no shortage of baseball and softball to watch in the summer. Pack some snacks and a blanket and walk or ride a bike to a nearby diamond after dinner a few times a month. Even if your kids are still too young to play on a team, there will be enough action and open space to keep them entertained.

Don't forget: a snack, blanket and a ball for practicing

FIND A MUSEUM

Many towns, even small ones, have museums. Go learn about your local history, pack a picnic and enjoy a day learning about the place you call home.

Don't forget: a notebook for kid's learning notes and a picnic

MAKE MUD PIES & RUN THROUGH THE SPRINKLERS

On a hot day, cool off with the kids. What better way to be carefree than to get dirty and then play in the sprinklers?

Don't forget: a bucket, a hose and a shovel

PLANT A CHILDREN'S GARDEN

Create a small space where your kids or grandkids can plant seeds and care for plants. Whether the plants grow into flowers or produce, there is a lot to learn about nature's lifecycles.

Don't forget: a small plot of garden, a notebook, seeds, a small shovel and watering can

MAKE YOUR OWN COZY THEATRE

Move the furniture and replace it with a lot of blankets. Pop a giant bowl of popcorn and pick a movie that everyone can enjoy from the floor. Some suggestions: The Land Before Time, Sound of Music, The Sandlot, Wall-E, Babe or Mary Poppins.

Don't forget: blankets, popcorn, water, the DVD and a TV or computer

FIND A NEW (OR OLD FAVORITE) NATIONAL PARK

Find a national park you have not visited or one you have that is a favorite. Take a drive and enjoy nature; go for a hike, swim in the lake, read all the signs and talk to a park ranger to learn something new.

Don't forget: camera, snacks and water bottle

USE THE WHOLE DRIVEWAY TO CREATE A STORY

Get your hands on some colorful chalk and start drawing. Take up the whole driveway and leave no corner unblemished.

Don't forget: sidewalk chalk

Growing A Victory Garden in Whitefish Bay

BY CHRISTINE MCBRIDE

For the last few months, my family has been watering and watching our Victory Garden grow. There have been a few learning lessons along the way, but we have also been enjoying many fresh herbs from the garden and are anxiously awaiting the arrival of tomatoes, cucumbers and green beans.

We found out the hard way that tomato plants absolutely need cages, and cages should be set up when first planted. After coming back from vacation, our once small tomato plants had taken over, and it was obvious that we needed to get cages set up. There might have been a few choice words used while trying to set up the cages that day.

Another incident occurred when my son was having some friends over and they were playing with a toy treasure chest. One of the children accidentally threw the key into the garden. To date, the key still hasn't been located, and I keep waiting to cut into a tomato with the key lodged inside of it.

It has been a summer of developing green thumbs and enjoying some fresh vegetables along the way! ●
